While it has had a few name changes and several redesigns along the way, one thing has remained consistent—the Journal of AHIMA has continued to provide the latest health information management news and professional development resources for nearly 90 years.

In honor of AHIMA's 90th anniversary this year, the Journal of AHIMA will devote a series of Addendum articles and other coverage to the association's and the profession's storied history. In this issue, we chronicle how the "look" of the magazine has changed since Volume 1, Number 1 of the association magazine was published in 1930.

To view a slideshow of Journal of AHIMA magazine covers by each decade from 1930 to the present, along with a summary of the top news of each period, visit journal.ahima.org/2018/04/01/slideshow-tracking-the-changing-face-of-the-journal.
